

Events commemorate anniversary of Korean War

By Tech. Sgt. Lonnie Kinder
311th Training Squadron

Some have dubbed it "The Forgotten War." Others have called it a "Police Action." Still others have merely classified it as the first skirmish in the Cold War. By any name, the Korean War was a devastating conflict that left its mark upon both the United States and the world, and its scars are still visible today.

This year marks the 50th anniversary of the beginning of this misunderstood conflict and various organizations around the world are planning commemorative events.

The United States Department of Defense has declared the week of June 25 to June 30 as the official 50th anniversary of the Korean War week.

The purposes of the Korean War commemorations as stated on the official web page at korea50.army.mil are "to honor the Korean War veterans and their families, to provide Americans with a clear understanding and appreciation of the lessons and history of the Korean War, and to educate every generation of

Map from Billy C. Mossman, Ebb and Flow: November 1950-July 1951 (Washington, D.C.: Center of Military History, 1990)

Americans on the historical impact of the Korean War in saving a nation from enslavement and preserving peace, freedom and prosperity."

Locally, the Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center is sponsoring a week of events and activities to commemorate this anniversary. During this week the base theater will screen movies highlighting the Korean War, and base dining facilities will add traditional Korean cuisine to their menus.

The week's activities will culminate on June 30 with displays and exhibits at Asian School II, 10 a.m.-3 p.m. These displays will include a Mobile Army Surgical Hospital tent display featuring medical exhibits and vintage uniforms of the various military services from that era and a TaeKwonDo demonstration. In addition, local Korean churches will sell Korean food and a local merchant will display an exhibit of traditional Korean furniture. Asian School II will have a display in their auditorium and will show movies featuring the history of the Korean War.

The day's events will culminate in a Pass and Review ceremony at Soldier Field at 4 p.m.

This ceremony will consist of units from all the military services and will include a multi-service "shadow formation" to honor the Missing in Action, Prisoners of War, and those who were lost during the Korean conflict.

The ceremony will begin with the introductions of the official party and distinguished visitors, an invocation, both the Korean and United States national anthems and the installation commander's introductions.

Retired Army Col. Lewis Mellett, Medal of Honor and Distinguished Service Cross recipient from the Korean War, is the scheduled guest speaker. A retreat ceremony and the Pass in Review will complete the ceremony.

A reception for the official party will be held at the Weckerling Center following the ceremony.

Commander discusses AAFES awards, value, customer satisfaction

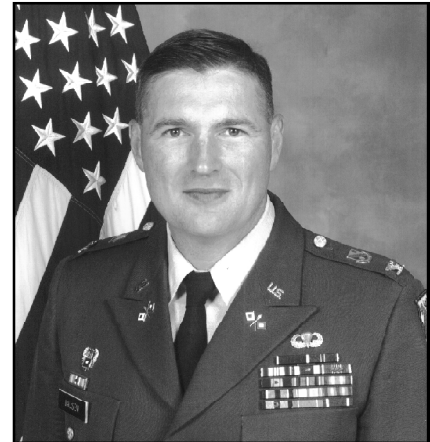

Hello, all.

I had the pleasure Wednesday morning of participating in the Quarterly Awards celebration for our AAFES! We are indeed fortunate to have so many great, enthusiastic people who work very hard to serve us here in our local area.

But AAFES can only be as good as we allow them. They need our support in shopping their stores, and they need our feedback when we aren't satisfied as customers. I believe I can speak for them in this regard; they will work very hard to fix the situation so that you are a satisfied customer again. Last year, our AAFES won an award for their customer satisfaction rating, and be assured, they want to stay on top.

Shopping at AAFES can be a win-win for all of us. A good percentage of their profits go toward our MWR programs – in excess of $400,000 last year. You can get the best price on any product, as long as you are comparing like item and model number; they will match any price, and you don't pay any sales tax in AAFES!

Army Col. Peter Dausen
Garrison Commander

So please support the stores that support you, and we can all come out winners.

Thanks for listening.

AAFES conducts customer satisfaction survey

By Linda Stillman
Visual Merchandiser, AAFES

In a continued effort to improve its customer service and to ensure it is exceeding customer expectations, the Army and Air Force Exchange Service will conduct a Customer Satisfaction Index survey at the Presidio of Monterey Main Exchange today through June 30.

Since 1996, customers have filled out CSI surveys at AAFES stores throughout the world. These surveys measure customer satisfaction in several areas, including customer service, pricing, associate availability and friendliness, and merchandise availability and quantity. After analyzing the results, the exchanges are compared with each other and with other discount department stores in the United States.

"The CSI was designed to measure customer satisfaction on a broad range of factors," said Tom Rambo, general manager of the POM Main Exchange. "To improve customer satisfaction, we need to understand not only what our customers tell us through survey results, but to also interact with them. We've got to move beyond just data collection because, to be a winner today, it's important not only to understand what our customer's needs are, but to know what it will take to exceed them."

When the final results are in, AAFES facilities that are acknowledged by their customers as exceeding their expectation will be presented with AAFES Customer Satisfaction Index Awards.

These Commander's Awards for Excellence in Customer Service will be awarded in the following categories: best store in AAFES; best store in each region; most improved store in each region; and the store that's meeting or exceeding the industry average.

"When our customers complete their survey, we ask that they take the time to mail them back in the self-addressed, postage-paid envelope that's provided," said Tom Rambo. "Their voice here at POM Main Store Exchange makes a difference, so I hope they will take the time to complete the survey so that we may measure our success and continue to improve."

POM Main Store Exchange won the Commander's Award for Excellence this past year and looks forward to another great year of success in meeting their customers' needs.

Carwash scheduled for Saturday at POM Annex

Foxtrot Company, 229th Military Intelligence Battalion, will have a car wash at the General Stilwell Community Center on the Presidio of Monterey Annex Saturday, 9 a.m.-2 p.m.

The purpose of the car wash is to raise money for the upcoming company dining in. Hot dogs and sodas will also be sold to waiting customers.

Postwide yard sale set for Saturday

The next postwide yard sale at the Presidio of Monterey Annex is scheduled for Saturday. Registration will be conducted at the Mayoral Program office located in the General Stilwell Community Center, POM Annex. Crafts may also be sold at this yard sale.

The final registration date is Friday, 6-7:30 p.m.

Registration fees are $5 for active duty military and their dependents. Fees are $10 for military retirees. Call the Mayors Program Office at 242-5055 for more information.

Foreign film series continues Sunday

The international film series at the Presidio of Monterey continues Sunday, 7 p.m. with the showing of "Where is the Friend's Home?" (Khaneh-Je Doost Kojast?), a film by Abbas Kiarostami. Admission is free.

This is a 1987 color film in Persian Farsi with English subtitles. It is a portrait of what it is like to grow up in Iran, but it also captures the universal conflicts between the world of adults and the world of children. Sometimes children have to find their own ways to get around the rules to accomplish what they want, in the name of friendship. The running time is 85 minutes.

The Defense Language Institute

Foreign Language Center will sponsor the monthly series on Sunday evenings at the Presidio of Monterey Theater, Building 208, Stilwell Road and 15th Infantry Street.

This free-admission series will consist of English-subtitled films in every language taught at DLIFLC, subject to availability. The screenings are open to all DLIFLC, Monterey Institute of International Studies, local college and high school language students, faculty, their families and guests.

For more information, call the Air Force Element Training Directorate at 242-6768.

Next TRICARE briefing set for Tuesday

Briefings on TRICARE benefits are held at the TRICARE Service Center, 4399 Parker Flats Cut-off Road, Presidio of Monterey Annex. The next briefing is Tuesday, 10 a.m. Upcoming briefings are scheduled for July 11, 11

Retiree Appreciation Day slated for July 8

Active duty and retired military service members concerned about benefits and other retirement issues can find answers at Retiree Appreciation Day, July 8, 9 a.m. - 2 p.m. on the Presidio of Monterey Annex at General Stilwell Community Center.

The Presidio of Monterey Military Personnel Division Transition Center and the Fort Ord Area Retiree Council will sponsor the event to assist retirees, their spouses or surviving spouses with their personal pay, health and Veterans Affairs benefits, and Social Security issues.

Service members, retirees and their families in the tri-county area can expect a day of information sharing, medical work-ups, medical ID card processing, and more.

Retiree Appreciation Day will provide information about personal pay, Social Security issues, current benefits and pending legislation affecting those benefits. Attendees can find guidance for making decisions concerning their own futures and their families' well-being.

Congressman Sam Farr, 17th District, will provide a congressional update, retired Col. Charles Partridge will speak on how pending legislation will affect a retiree's future, and Shary Farr will speak about surviving benefits for retirees.

A representative from DFAS Cleveland will speak about changes to retiree pay, and the Retirement Services Officer for California/Nevada will also provide an update. The talks begin at 9 a.m. in the General Stilwell Community Center.

More than 30 service agencies will staff booths to provide information and assistance to active duty and retired military service members. The General Stilwell Community Center will furnish a meal for $6.50 per person, and the Naval Technical Training Center Detachment's Choir will perform.

A VA hospital team from the Palo Alto facility will provide medical screening and provide updated medical ID cards.

Visitors may park in front of General Stilwell Community Center.

For more information, contact Judith Costello at 242-6691.

a.m. and July 19 at noon.

Savings and investments workshop June 22

A savings and investments workshop is scheduled for June 22, 1:30-4:30 p.m., at the Navy Family Service Center, La Mesa Village. This program was developed to emphasize to the service member, especially the younger members, that saving and investing are possible even with a limited income. The workshop will provide service members and their families basic education in investments. "Planning for Your Financial Future" is for audiences requiring more detailed savings and investments information. It is designed with flexibility to meet time requirements, areas of interest, and knowledge level. Attachments, outlines, and overheads are available.

For more information or to register, call 656-3488.

Soldier Readiness Processing June 27, 28

The Military Personnel Division will conduct its annual Soldier Readiness Processing June 27 and 28 at the Hobson Student Activities Center, Building 843.

Army regulations require soldiers to be administratively ready for immediate deployment, and the SRP is the means to ensure deployability.

The Record Section will be closed for normal business June 27 and 28 due to the SRP. Soldiers who are departing permanent change of station or termination of service during this period are asked to outprocess the record section June 26, 29 or 30.

First Friday Pre-Teen Group scheduled for July 7

A support and educational group for adolescents, 6th-9th grade, scheduled for July 7, 4:30-6:30 p.m., will meet the first Friday of every month at the Navy Family Service Center. Focus of the group will be on socialization and survival skills for young adolescents adjusting to a new community.

Call 656-3488 for reservations.

Single parent support focus group set for July 11

Army Community Service is hosting a focus group meeting to discuss the needs of single parent families and the formation of a Single Parent Support Group July 11, 6 p.m., at the General Stilwell Community Center. Free child care will be provided. Interested parents should contact Lynn Dittrich at 242-7653 or 242-7660.

Marriage workshop scheduled for July 15

"Married and Friends ... Always," a PREP couples workshop, will be held on July 15, 9 a.m.-4 p.m., at the General Stilwell Community Center. This seminar is designed to teach effective communication skills to strengthen and enhance marriages. Couples will learn ways to keep "little disagreements" from becoming "big arguments" and end the day with ideas for keeping romance and fun in their marriages.

This free seminar is open to active duty military, Department of Defense civilians and their spouses or fiancées. Free child care is provided, and refreshments will be served in the morning and afternoon.

For more information, or to register call Army Community Service at 242-7660 or 242-7653 or the Navy Family Service Center at 656-3488.

Anger control workshop scheduled for July 20

Army Community Service is sponsoring a two-hour workshop on anger control July 20, 6-8 p.m., at the General Stilwell Community Center. This two-hour workshop teaches participants to identify their anger triggers, measure their anger levels, and methods to control their anger.

Free child care is available.

Registration is required, call 242-7660 or 242-7653.

Parenting class scheduled for July 20

The class "17 Ways to Get your Child to do What You Want" is scheduled for July 20, 4:30-6 p.m. at the Navy Family Service Center.

Discussion topics include rewards, setting realistic goals, common misunderstandings, how to be encouraging with your child, and improving communication while strengthening the relationship with your child.

Call 656-3488 for reservations.

Self-esteem for adults class set for July 25

The class "Promoting Growth and Self-Esteem for Adults" is scheduled for July 25, 6:30-8 p.m. at the Navy Family Service Center.

This is a six-session group focusing on the long-term effects for those individuals that grew up in an alcoholic home, abuse environment or other family dysfunction. Topics include issues related to feelings, trust and improving communication.

Call 656-3488 for reservations.

Anger management class set for July 28

Anger Management 1 is scheduled for July 28, 9-11 a.m. at the Navy Family Center.

This class will help individuals control and better manage their anger. The group will discuss anger myths and truths; the unhealthy consequences of anger; anger cues and self-identification; the A, B, C's of identification and change; and how to control your anger so it doesn't control you.

Call 656-3488 for reservations.

Defense Department aims to lower alcohol abuse

By Army Staff Sgt. Kathleen Rhem
American Forces Press Service

Twenty-one percent of service members admit to drinking heavily — a statistic the military hasn't managed to lower in 20 years — but service officials are determined to change that.

"If you look at heavy use of alcohol, drinking a lot in a short span of time, we tend to have a higher prevalence than the civilian community," said Lt. Col. Wayne Talcott, an Air Force psychologist. Young military people between 18 and 25 also tend to do more heavy drinking than their civilian peers, he noted.

Speaking only in terms of medical care and lost time at work, alcohol abuse costs the Department of Defense more than $600 million each year, said Navy Capt. Robert Murphy, a medical corps officer. DOD spends another $132 million a year to care for babies with fetal alcohol syndrome, related to their mothers' heavy drinking.

Talcott and Murphy co-chair the relatively new DOD Alcohol Abuse and Tobacco Use Reduction Committee. Their goal is to reduce the prevalence of heavy drinking within the military by 5 percent a year by changing DOD officials' focus on alcohol abuse from treatment to prevention.

"We have very good treatment programs, but they're very expensive and don't reach a lot of people," Murphy said. "We're focusing on prevention. We're certainly not opposed to alcohol use, but we are trying to reduce the prevalence of alcohol abuse."

As some colleges do with their students, Talcott said, the committee wants to help service members understand the liabilities associated with heavy drinking.

The committee also aims to better track alcohol-related adverse events, such as incidences of driving under the influence, suicides, crimes and domestic violence, Murphy said. He explained there's no centralized DOD tracking system, though the services collect data that can be collated into DOD-wide figures.

Recent civilian studies have turned up some frightening statistics, Murphy said. Thirty-one percent of all occupational injuries are alcohol-related, as are 23 percent of suicides and 32 percent of homicides.

"You typically have program offices that largely are designed to treat people with alcohol problems," Talcott explained. "Rather than waiting for people to develop severe problems, we want to build into the system ways to get the right messages to help our young people make better decisions about their drinking behavior."

"It's not the use, it's alcohol abuse that gets people into trouble," he said.

Presidio Police give tips to avoid con artist scams

It's not always easy to spot con artists. They're smart, extremely persuasive, and aggressive. They invade your home through the telephone and the mail, advertise in well-known newspapers and magazines, and come to your door.

Most people think they're too smart to fall for a scam, but con artists rob all kinds of people from investment counselors and doctors to teenagers and elderly widows of billions of dollars every year. But remember ... if it sounds too good to be true, it probably is.

You can protect yourself

❑ Never give a caller your credit card, phone card, Social Security, or bank account number over the phone. It's illegal for tele-marketers to ask for these numbers to verify a prize or gift.

❑ Beware of 900 numbers. People who call 900 numbers to request instant credit often end up with a booklet on how to establish credit or a list of banks offering low-interest credit cards. Such calls can end up costing $50 or more, but consumers rarely end up obtaining credit.

❑ Listen carefully to the name of a charity requesting money. Fraudulent charities often use names that sound like reputable, well-known organizations, such as the American Cancer Association, instead of the American Cancer Society. Ask for a financial report before you donate; a reputable charity will always send you one.

❑ Investigate before you invest. Never make an investment with a stranger over the phone. Beware of promises that include the terms "get rich quick" or "a once-in-a-lifetime opportunity."

❑ Don't buy health products or treatments that include: a promise for a quick and dramatic cure, testimonials, imprecise language, appeals to emotion instead of reason, or a single product that cures many ills. Quackery can delay an ill person from getting timely treatment.

❑ Look closely at offers that come in the mail. Con artists often use official-looking forms and bold graphics to lure victims. If you receive items in the mail that you didn't order, you are under no obligation to pay for them – throw them out, return them, or keep them.

❑ Be suspicious of ads that promise quick cash working from your home. After you've paid for the supplies or a how-to book to get started, you often find there's no market for the product and there's no way to get your money back.

❑ Beware of cheap home repair work that would otherwise be expensive, regardless of the reason given. The con artist may just do part of the work, use shoddy materials and untrained workers, or simply take your deposit and never return.

❑ Use common sense in dealing with auto repairs. One mechanic convinced a woman that she needed to have the winter air in her tires replaced with summer air. Get a written estimate, read it carefully, and never give the repair shop a blank check to "fix everything."

If you notice any suspicious activity in your neighborhood, call the Presidio of Monterey Police Department immediately at 242-7851, 242-7852 or 242-7853. Call 911 in an emergency of immediate danger. (Courtesy of Presidio of Monterey Police Department)

MPC Fall Registration begins July 3

Monterey Peninsula College Fall semester (August 21 – Dec. 14) schedules are now available at the POM Education Center, Bldg. 630.

Dozens of independent study and on-line courses are especially user friendly for the POM community. Geology, astronomy and chemistry courses with labs are also offered on Saturdays specifically for the convenience of DLI students.

Come by the Education Center to pick up the enrollment and tuition assistance forms. Do not delay in registering early, especially to make sure you get one of the limited seats available for the natural science classes.

“Cyber Class” demo June 22

The Monterey Campus of Golden Gate University will hold a free “cyber demonstration” for prospective students of the Master of Public Administration and Bachelor of Public Administration degrees on Thursday, 6:30 p.m. on the former Fort Ord.

Call 373-4176 or 422-3515 to reserve a seat and receive a map.

Fall 2000 semester classes will start Sept. 5, so now is a good time to see if this MPA or BPA program will work for you.

College Credit by Exam

Even if you have had no previous college work before coming to Presidio of Monterey, the odds are in your favor of earning college credit by free exams offered at every Education Center throughout the world.

If you are able to make it through the foreign language instruction at the Defense Language Institute Foreign Language Center, you have a strong chance of passing the College Level Examination Program General exam in English worth six semester hours of college credit and military promotion points.

There are almost a hundred other exam subjects available for your review, study and pretesting. Stop by the POM Education Center in Bldg. 630 to pick up a listing of available exams and a free study guide to go with each.

Testing is on Thursday afternoons at 4 p.m. by appointment.

Army promotion points by Internet

The Army Correspondence Course Program offers 356 courses and 2,500

subcourses in a wide range of subjects which reach more people around the world than any other training program (225,000 currently enrolled).

Enrollment forms and information about the promotion points earned through the ACCP are available on the Internet at www.atsc.army.mil/accp/dlsd.htm

Porter Youth Center begins youth soccer registration

The Porter Youth Center is now accepting registrations for the 2000 Youth Soccer Season.

This program is designed for children ages 5-14.

Registrations will be taken through July 19. However, individuals are encouraged to sign-up as soon as possible because space is limited and registrations are taken on a first come, first served basis.

Porter Youth Center Youth Soccer is open to dependents of all branches of the military regardless of where they live.

This program is designed to provide a high quality recreation experience to boys and girls of all ability levels. The program stresses learning the fundamentals of the game and having fun.

For more information on youth soccer or any of the other sports offered through the Porter Youth Center, call Andy Lipsig at 242-7823 or visit the center located on the corner of Gen. Jim Moore Boulevard and Normandy Avenue on the Presidio of Monterey Annex.

Teen and Pre-Teen Program

Youth may take part in many monthly activities through the Teen and Pre-Teen Program: dances, parties, lock-ins, arts and crafts, tournaments, tours, table-tennis, basketball, computer room, and other indoor and outdoor events.

Special events and trips are planned each month.

Major events are scheduled during school breaks. These events include bowling, beach outings, camping, paintball and amusement park trips.

Call Porter Youth Center at 242-7823 for more information on upcoming events and activities.

If your ad is dated (05-19), you must contact us before the Wednesday deadline to have it renewed.

Classified ads policy

Military members, retirees and Department of Defense civilian employees, with valid identification cards, are authorized to place classified ads in the Community News.

To place an ad in the Community News, complete the form on the back page of the Community News and deliver it to the Public Affairs Office, Building 614, Room 142, Presidio of Monterey, 93944. Ads may also be sent via e-mail to the editor at cnews@pom-emh1.army.mil. Individuals should ensure to include all information requested on the form, including the category of the ad.

Daytime work telephone numbers are for use by Community News staff only; they will not be listed in ads. Individuals may place up to three ads per household, in different categories, per issue. Each ad should not exceed 35 words; each item for sale should be valued at least $10.

The Community News staff will make every effort to publish ads accurately, but we reserve the right to edit ads to meet readability, format and space requirements. Individuals should notify the editor of typographical errors, and they will be corrected as early as possible.

Acceptable classified ads include items in the categories of Autos; Motorcycles; Trucks, Vans, Sport, RVs; Wanted; Sports Equipment; Entertainment, Music Items; Computers and Accessories; Lost and Found; Miscellaneous; Pets or Household Items. Items must be for one-time sale or for free—not for a profit-sharing venture of multiple items. Classified ads for businesses, rentals, free information, help for hire or tutoring, or illegal items are not authorized.

California firearms laws state that it is “unlawful for a person who is not a licensed firearms dealer to sell, loan or otherwise transfer a firearm to a non-licensed person unless the sale, loan, or transfer is completed through a licensed dealer or law enforcement agency.” Because of this statewide restriction, ads for guns or weapons are not authorized.

Each ad will be published in three consecutive issues unless it is renewed or cancelled. The date the ad was first published is printed in parentheses following each ad. Classified ads may be renewed or cancelled by phone; however, new ads, additions or major changes to ads must be done in writing before the Wednesday deadline for the next issue, generally a week and a half prior to publication.

Refer questions to the Public Affairs Office at 242-5104.

Moving? Individuals may call the Public Affairs Office at 242-5104 to cancel classified ads.
Be sure to identify the category, first few words of the ad, phone number in ad.

Crime Watch recording provides information to housing residents

Presidio of Monterey family members have an established means to inform themselves of crimes occurring in various housing areas.

Crime Watch is the information link between the POM Police and the community. Crime Watch reports crimes that have occurred in our military community housing areas and is updated weekly. Special Alerts are also a part of the Crime

Watch system and notifies the community of crimes that are of an immediate concern.

Call 24-CRIME or 242-7463 to hear a brief recorded synopsis of incidents and crimes.
